The court shall thereupon order the jury commission to draw from the special box provided for by law the names of as many persons, not less than twenty, as the court may direct, and to certify said names to the clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia as a panel of prospective jurors. From the persons so certified and summoned, the court, after examination on oath and in open court as to their qualifications, shall select and impanel a jury of five capable and disinterested persons who shall have the qualifications of jurors as prescribed by law for the courts of the District of Columbia, and in addition thereto shall be freeholders of said district and shall not be in the service or employment of the United States or of the District of Columbia.

The money so paid into the registry of the court shall be deemed to be vested in the persons owning or interested in said lands, according to their respective estates and interests, and said money shall take the place and stand in lieu of the lands condemned. The court, upon the application of the petitioner or of any party in interest, shall have power to determine and direct who is entitled to receive payment of the money so paid into the registry, and may, in its discretion, order a reference to the auditor of the court or a special master to ascertain the facts on which such determination and direction are to be made.
